FOREIGN SUPPLIER VERIFICATION PROGRAM TRAINING

The United States requires food exported to the U.S. to meet U.S. food safety requirements. The Food Safety Modernization Act states importers are responsible to ensure the food they import meets U.S. regulations through a Foreign Supplier Verification Program.

AFI President Bob Bauer helped develop and is certified to teach the FDA-approved FSVP course. The FSVP course is a two-day course that takes participants through the FSVP requirements and includes exercises to help them develop their company's program. Attendees receive a certificate upon completion of the course but must attend the entire program to receive the certificate.

The cost for the course is shown below, which includes lunch both days, course materials and the certificate fee. Seating is limited. Registrations will be taken on a first-come, first-served basis.
